The Wonders of America

By T. F. MAXEY

THE SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION.

JAMES SMITHSON, an Englishman, who died in Italy in 1829, left his property to the United States "to found at Washington, under the name of the Smithsonian Institution, an establishment for the increase and diffusion of knowledge among men."

"A consultative library of objects" rather than an institution of learning in the nature of a college with a faculty and students, its educational activities are of the very broadest character. The several buildings are located in the Smithsonian park, the institution uses maintaining studios at other points separated points. Its exhibitions, surveys and explorations cover practically every country under the sun.

The Smithsonian park buildings contain collections of the belongings of Presidents Washington, Lincoln and Grant, and the herms of our army and navy; the costumes worn by the ladies of the white house from 1789; the most complete collection of firearms in the country; extensive exhibits of minerals, coins and stamps of history value; fine sweeping and musical instruments, graphic arts, textile curiosities and what not; several millions of natural history specimens; more than a million specimens of the world's flora and upwards of 5,000 exhibits of pre-historic and geological objects; occupying 167 acres in Rock Creek valley (Washington) contains more than 1,000 individual mammals, birds and reptiles.

It is needless to say that this great institution is well and favorably known to men of science the world over, and that those who come to study its wonderful collections are numbered in the millions.

Cold Calculation.

"Scientists don't fight duels as they did in the old days."

"No," replied Senator Sorghum. "Dueling is poor business as well as bad manners. Why should statesmen fight for nothing when a couple of safety-first pugilists will divide a purse of a hundred thousand or so?"

No Comparison.

First Playwright—You don't mean to say you are dubious about your play?

Second Playwright—I certainly am. They liked it so well in Danbury, Conn. that I'm afraid it's over the head of Broadway—Life.

In the Park.

Guard—Excuse me, miss, haven't you seen the sign "Private: No admittance"?

Lady Artist—Yes, but I'm only painting the sunset here.

Guard—Makes no difference; the sunset here is private.

Safer.

Philip Morris—Wonder why Janet always has her pictures taken en profile?

Herbert Tureyon—Because it shows only half of her face—Judge.

Rash Assertion.

"I wouldn't marry the best man living," exclaimed the positive woman.

"Don't be hasty," rejoined Miss Cayenne. "Take my advice, and if he has proposed to you, think it over."

LOTS OF IT

"Couldn't we form a stock company and sell lots on this ocean front?"

"I should say so—and look at the water we could put in the stock."

Perversity.

The gasoline would not ignite. To pull the lever loaded, A cigarette he paused to light, And then the tank exploded.

Her Excuse.

Professor—Why weren't you at chapel this morning, Mabel?

Mabel—I have an excuse, professor.

Professor—Yes, I have seen him—Judge.

A Slight Excuse.

"You'd better marry me. Eligible men are scarce."

"I suppose I could offer that as an explanation," said the girl reflectively.

Siamese Love Motion Pictures.

The Siamese love the "movies." They flock to Bangkok's motion picture theaters. In each of these theaters there is a royal dais, with a chair for the king and a table for the royal elbow and a jar for the royal spittle (the king does not chew betel nut, but all of his subjects do; so the jar is de rigueur). The king often comes for the premiere of a new picture. Usually the film is a well-worn French or American product, which has been broken so often and pieced together so minutely that following the story presents an incredible feat. The Siamese follow it eagerly, untroubled of strange usage in the plot. But Charlie Chaplin may gambol in vain if the king is in the theater, for the audience turn their backs on the screen to look at royalty.

ANNAPOLIS APPOINTMENTS

SENATOR A. A. JONES has sent the News the following letter in regard to Annapolis appointments to be made this fall:

Editor of the News, Clovis, N. M.

"In order to reach each and every one of our young men in New Mexico who are desirous of attending the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., I am asking you and soliciting your cooperation in giving this matter the widest publicity."

"In June, 1922, there will be three vacancies in this institution to which I am entitled to nominate three principal candidates, and three alternates—designated first, second and third alternates respectively—to each of such candidates."

"It has always been my practice in the past to hold preliminary competitive examinations throughout the state with a view to making my nominations based on the highest ratings. This is the fairest method of which I know and gives everyone an opportunity according to his own merits."

This year arrangements have been made with the Civil Service Commission to hold this preliminary examination on October 29, 1921, at convenient points. Those desiring to avail themselves of this opportunity should write me well in advance of that date so that the Commission be advised.

The requirements of candidates to the Academy are that candidates must be of good moral character, physically sound, well formed and of robust constitution. Height shall not be less than 5 feet 2 inches between the ages of 16 and 18 years, and not less than 5 feet 4 inches between the ages of 18 and 20 years, and the minimum weight at 16 years of age shall be 111 pounds with an increase of not less than three pounds for each additional year or fraction of a year over one-half. Candidates must be unmarried, and must be not less than 16 years of age nor more than 19 years of age on April 1st of the calendar year in which they enter the Naval Academy.

Upon nomination, candidates will be required to take the mental examination given by the Academy on the third Wednesday in April, or they may be accepted by certificate from a recognized school. The physical examination is usually given the first week in June. Upon these examinations depend the candidate's admission to the Academy.

"The applicant must be a citizen of the United States and a resident of New Mexico. In writing me he should give his full name, the date and place of birth, past residence, length of residence in New Mexico, height and weight, education and

Tax-Payers:

I want to thank the tax payers of Curry County for the splendid showing they have made in the payment of their taxes for 1920. July 1st 821-2 per cent of 1920 taxes had been paid. This is a fine showing when you consider the financial strain all our people have experienced during the last six months.

If you have not paid all of your taxes you should pay them by July 31st. On August 1st regular interest and also 5 per cent penalty will attach. New tax law requires tax collector to file copy of tax roll in District Court as a complaint for suit against all delinquents. A summons will issue out of District Court. Please pay balance of your taxes before suit is filed.

Sincerely,

J. S. MORGAN, County Treasurer
